Travel to Trade Fairs around the world

It's K time: At the exhibition centre and naturally also in the city! With a host of events and special opening hours, plus lots of interesting special offers on cultural attractions and shopping, K is doubly attractive to visitors.

No other trade fair in the plastics and rubber industry presents an array of products and novelties as large and varied as K 2010. The high international representation among the 3,000 exhibitors who will be in Düsseldorf from 27 October to 3 November guarantees that all segments will be reflected at world market level. And because each participant naturally wishes to showcase attractive innovations, preparations for K 2010 are in full swing at all of the exhibiting companies.
